

Live Event Production • Video Production • Audiovisual Solutions

Aarius Dumas Productions LLC is a professional audiovisual and media production company specializing in broadcast-quality live event production, video capture, and integrated audiovisual solutions for corporate, government, nonprofit, and community organizations. We deliver turnkey production services that merge creative storytelling with disciplined technical execution, supporting conferences, hybrid meetings, public programs, and branded media initiatives that require reliability and polish.

Our operations align with several key North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) sectors, including:

512110, 512191, 711510, 541850, 532490, 541618;

NAICS classifications cover video production, post-production, audiovisual equipment deployment, and creative consulting, positioning the company as both a production studio and technical event partner.

Aarius Dumas Productions LLC supports a diverse portfolio of projects including conference production, interview-based documentation, civic and nonprofit programming, corporate presentations, and large public events. We produce professional interview series, event highlight films, and live streamed programming that extend the reach of in-person gatherings to remote audiences.

Our production model is scalable, supporting everything from single-camera documentary capture to full multi-camera live productions. We integrate professional camera systems, switching and streaming infrastructure, audio reinforcement, and lighting design to create cohesive visual experiences across conference centers, civic venues, educational institutions, and outdoor environments.

Beyond execution, we provide technical consultation and system design, helping organizations plan efficient audiovisual strategies. We operate as both a creative studio and a technical integrator, translating organizational goals into professional visual media that strengthen messaging and extend the value of every event.

Executive Producer & Creative Director • Technical Director / Broadcast Engineer • Live Event Producer • Director of Photography (DP) • Audio-Visual Systems Technician • Post-Production Editor

Functional Title Narrative

Aarius Dumas Productions LLC operates with a streamlined, multi-disciplinary structure built for reliable, broadcast-quality production. The Executive Producer & Creative Director leads project vision and client coordination, while the Technical Director / Broadcast Engineer manages production systems and live workflows. A Live Event Producer oversees on-site logistics and timing, and the Director of Photography ensures professional visual capture. An Audio-Visual Systems Technician supports equipment and venue integration, and a Post-Production Editor delivers polished final media. This focused structure enables efficient scaling while maintaining consistent technical quality and dependable execution across live and recorded productions.
